

El Dorado High School

Natural Resources Program

Please return this completed form as soon as possible to the high school counseling office to reserve your spot in the program. All applications are DUE FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2012.

The Natural Resources Program is a four year course of study offered at El Dorado High School that provides four years of science with specialty courses in Forest and Wildlife Management, Environmental Monitoring, and Environmental Science. The Program is a partnership between business and education that provides real-world work experience in the field, as well as an integrated academic and technical curriculum. Upon graduation, students are prepared not only for entry-level employment in a high-growth profession, but are also uniquely equipped with the academic skills for continuing their education.
